Pacific Links International, the owner of nine golf courses in the United States and China, has acquired Dove Canyon Country Club in Rancho Santa Margarita for an undisclosed price.

"The sale of Dove Canyon Country Club represents one of the most significant golf course transactions to date nationally, both in terms of quality of asset and purchase value," said Ken Arimitsu, vice president of PM Realty Group, who represented both the buyer and the seller.

The par-71, 6,902-yard course features holes surrounded by canyons and waterfalls. It is the only Jack Nicklaus Signature course in Orange County.

Sanyo Foods Co., a Tokyo-based manufacturer of instant noodles, had owned Dove Canyon since 1992.
